Strategy: The positive momentum persisted, with the KSE-100 index rising by 571.75 points to reach 94,763.64. The current bullish trend is targeting the 94,980 to 95,281 range, with support at 94,290. If the index exceeds 95,281, it may aim for the 95,845 to 96,100 range. Immediate support is between 94,500 and 94,290, and a drop below 94,290 could signal a decline towards 94,130 to 93,871. Given the anticipation of further upward movement in the next session, we are increasing the risk level for the index, focusing on the 93,871 to 94,980 range initially, then potentially reaching 95,845 to 96,100. While the market is currently overbought, high volatility is expected, with potential weakness from profit-taking.
