Technical Analysis

Strategy: The local market experienced a mildly volatile session on Friday, with the KSE-100 index fluctuating between an intraday high of 159,337.5 points (up 1,384 points) and a low of 157,522.0 points (down 431 points). It eventually settled at 158,037.37, posting a modest gain of 83.91 points. The prevailing chart formation suggests another possible attempt to break through the newly established resistance zone of 158,450 – 159,350. A decisive move above 159,350 could extend the bullish run toward 159,815 – 160,200, with 160,900 as the next target. On the downside, immediate support lies between 157,465 – 157,190. A fall below 157,190 would weaken the trend, exposing levels of 156,775 – 156,180, which currently serve as the key support zone. Failure to hold this region could trigger further downside towards 155,000 – 154,000. For now, given the support range at 157,190 – 156,180, the outlook favors bulls aiming for 158,450 – 158,800 initially, followed by 159,350 – 159,815.
